

Course descriptions

Dr. Zhao Chuanbing

Chinese language advanced II.

Credit: 2

Brief introduction:

This is a fundamental compulsory course for the foreign students with the major of Chinese Language. The candidate for this course must have had a command of 1200 Chinese vocabularies and had attained the Chinese level around HSK4. The course is aimed at helping students to understand and be cable of applying the important language points in the text correctly; to develop their ability in analyzing different types of long complicated articles; to improve their ability in narrating 、 discussing or illustrating things by sufficient practice and essential direction of the teacher. The course program is implementing a comprehensive training in terms of the Chinese listening ,speaking, reading and writing exercises surrounding the intermediate -level vocabularies 、 grammar knowledge 、 communicative function 、 culture and discourse analysis .

Referenced textbook:

New Practical Chinese Reader(4), Beijing Language and Culture University Press. 2015